Brandmark minimum sizes

The logo, in its various formats should never be reproduced smaller than the sizes indicated below.

Clear space rule

The proportions, spacing and relative positioning of the symbol and logotype must remain consistent.

The letter "x" on the diagram indicates the minimum clear space required around the logo image.

In the case of the vertical certification logo, the size of the "x" is determined by the height of the space between the bottom of the green leaf shape and the white keyline underneath the Freshcare logo type. For the horizontal certification logo, the size of the "x" is determined by the height of the space between the top of the sun shape and the white keyline.

As such, depending on the size of the logo, the clear space required for each usage may vary.

For example, if the logo was enlarged to a point where the space (as per above description) was 3 cm high, the clear space required around the logo elements would be 3 cm.

No graphic or text elements should appear within the clear space area.

Colour reproduction

The logo is designed to be able to be reproduced in numerous colour spaces. However, whenever possible it is preferable to reproduce the logo in four colour process for printing purposes, so as to maintain the colour gradient in the 'leaf' part of the logo.
